Abstract

In this Article, "The Paradoxical equilibrium of two physical bodies", officially registered in Russia in the State Notary office under my name as the visual educational object for our schoolchildren and students too, one can see the absent in the alive Nature very simple physical model of the unusual equilibrium of two usual and simple things.

This model has the scientific value for working - out the another constructions of the same direction and may become a basement for widen studying it in a new Part of Physics. I suppose this idea can be used in the different toys and souvenirs manufacturing, in creating the different entertainment attractions in the city's Parks of Cultural and rest.
