

“Pancreatic Diseases and Therapy”Aim and Scope

Journal of Gastroenterology, Pancreatology & Liver Disorders (JGPLD) is a peer reviewed open access journal, exclusively designed for the international Scientific community that addresses ongoing research on gastroenterology, which aims to provide a unique platform for publishing high quality research work. The journal aims to frame up an outstanding special issue on “Pancreatic Diseases and Therapy”

The pancreas is a glandular organ in the digestive system and endocrine system of vertebrates. In humans, it is located in the abdominal cavity behind the stomach. It is an endocrine gland producing several important hormones, including insulin, glucagon, somatostatin, and pancreatic polypeptide which circulate in the blood. The pancreas is also a digestive organ, secreting pancreatic juice containing digestive enzymes that assist digestion and absorption of nutrients in the small intestine. These enzymes help to further break down the carbohydrates, proteins, and lipids in the chyme.
