

Nanoscience & Technology: Open Access

Special Issue on
“Nano-Biomaterials: Recent Trends and Future Challenges”

Aims and Scope

Nanoscience & Technology: open access is a peer reviewed journal, solely designed for the worldwide scientific community that addresses current research on nanotechnology, which aims to provide an exclusive platform for publishing worthy research work. The journal aims to frame up an outstanding special issue on Nano-Biomaterials: Recent Trends and Future Challenges.

A biomaterial is any matter, surface, or construct that interacts with biological systems. Biomaterials can be derived either from nature or synthesized in the laboratory using a variety of chemical approaches utilizing metallic components or ceramics. Biomaterials are often used for medical applications, either as a whole or part of a living structure, for example in a heart valve, or in a biomedical device, for example a hip implant.

NSTOA invites papers from entire the worldwide community of scientists covering many topics on Nano-Biomaterials, which paves a way for publishing outcomes of recent research in Nanoscience & Technology.

As, we are in a step ahead to bring the current research on Nano-Biomaterials: Recent Trends and Future Challenges exploration to you and every other in an easy accessible way by your participation and cooperation..

Submissions

Authors are invited to submit articles which address the progress and current standing of Nano-Biomaterials: Recent Trends and Future Challenges. Please refer Author guidelines before submission.

Author benefits for these submissions will be found at Special issue page. Manuscript should be submitted Here or e-mail it to nano@symbiosisonline.org

Nanoscience & Technology: Open Access

Submissions are open from October 01, 2015
