Special Issue on

“Nanomaterials: Applications in Healthcare & Green Technology”

Aims and Scope

Nanoscience & Technology: open access is a peer reviewed journal, solely designed for the worldwide scientific community that addresses current research on nanotechnology, which aims to provide an exclusive platform for publishing worthy research work. The journal aims to frame up an outstanding special issue on Nanomaterials: Applications in Healthcare & Green Technology.

Nanomaterials are now widely used in healthcare. Drugs, Devices, and diagnostics are the three main components that help in a healthcare provider deliver quality care to the patient. Nanomaterials are used in all these aspects of providing healthcare to stop morbidity and mortality. Green nanotechnology has two goals producing nanomaterials and products without harming the environment or humans, and producing nano-products that provide solutions to environmental problems. It uses principles of green chemistry and green engineering to make nanomaterials and nano-products without toxic ingredients.

NSTOA invites papers from entire the worldwide community of scientists covering many topics on Nanomaterials: Applications in Healthcare & Green Technology, which paves a way for publishing outcomes of recent research in Nanoscience & technology.

As, we are in a step ahead to bring the current research on Nanomaterials: Applications in Healthcare & Green Technology exploration to you and every other in an easy accessible way by your participation and cooperation.
