

Special Issue on “Drug Abuse & Addiction”

Aims and Scope

SOJ Psychology is a peer reviewed open access journal, exclusively designed for the international Scientific community that addresses ongoing research on Psychology, which aims to provide a unique platform for publishing high quality research work. The journal provides current research information in basic and advanced aspects of Drug Abuse & Addiction.

Drug abuse and drug addiction are the lifelong or habitual use of any type of chemical substance to change the state of body or mind except medically prescribed drugs. Drug addiction includes the use of both licit and illicit drugs causing physical and psychological harm to the user and society. Substance abuse is the frequently used substances (including alcohol and inhalants) that fall under the addictive profile.

The objective of the special issue is to integrate the growing international community of researchers working on the topics like Neurotransmitters, Mental Disorders, Method of Administration and Drug Tolerance.
